About Temi

How can I help you?

There's quite a bit hiding behind that pretty face. I offer a range of services depending on your needs and goals.

I'm an older Millennial. So while I'm young enough to be considered a digital native, I'm still old enough to remember the 90's and, well... all this - social media, mobile & technology becoming so ubiquitous. This rare mix of youth, experience and familiarity with the digital ecosystem gives me a unique vantage point of insight.

What Temi brings to the table

Internet Marketing Expertise: Being formally educated in Internet Marketing at Full Sail University Temi has a rock solid foundation in the space, not a piecemeal patchwork of different tactics you often find with self taught individuals. As a small business owner himself, Temi speaks the language of small to midsize business, understands the legal concerns and brings together additional departments that all have to do with the customer acquisition and retention process.

Educator at heart: Temi is the former inaugural chairperson of The Greater Dayton Real Estate Investors Association's (GDREIA) Wholesaling Subgroup. This experience got him accustomed to speaking to groups both large and small, while conveying complex topics in an easy to understand style. Whenever possible Temi prefers to use your own analytics and data as the training materials for his sessions. This way, companies are not just learning ideals and platitudes, but learning with their own data, and seeing immediate opportunities for improvement as a result.

Bios for use

Below please find both short and long bios of Temi.

Short Bio

Temitayo Osinubi, or Temi for short, is an author, podcaster, and Principal Consultant at Digital Marketing Advisers, a digital agency. Having been both self-taught and received a Bachelor's Degree in Internet Marketing from Full Sail University, Temi has a unique vantage point into the world of Digital Marketing few can lay claim to. He shares insights and interviews thought leaders on the Marketing Disenchanted podcast.

Long Bio

Single Day or Two-day Training Programs: The second day can be all training or a mix of training and consulting as needed. Typically, most companies use the second day as breakout sessions for each department, which enables more specialized training.
